About C5:

The New York Citywide Colon Cancer Control Coalition (C5) is a group of stakeholders that advises the City on its colon cancer screening agenda and works with the City to implement colon cancer prevention and control initiatives. The New York City Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (DOHMH) formed C5 in March of 2003. C5's mission is to: 1) increase awareness of colorectal cancer in New York City; 2) increase screening for colorectal cancer in New York City; 3) reduce the incidence and mortality of the disease.

C5 is comprised of stakeholders from various disciplines, including: primary care physicians, GI doctors, nurses, health plans, hospital administrator, advocacy groups, worksite wellness organizations, and city and state government representatives.
