

Emergency Preparedness Webinar Series

Join the National Nurse-Led Care Consortium for a three-part webinar series around building a culture of preparedness in a health center setting. Primary care association and health center administration and staff responsible for emergency preparedness efforts are encouraged to attend.

Part 1

Navigating the CMS Emergency Preparedness Final Rule

Tuesday, March 13 from 1:00 - 2:00 pm EST

Join us to take a closer look at the CMS Rule requirements related to developing emergency plans, policies and procedures, communications, and trainings and exercises. Panelists will also share challenges encountered and lessons learned from the Rule's recent implementation.

Part 2

Planning for Specific Hazards - Bolstering Health Center Staff Readiness for an Outbreak

Tuesday, March 20 from 1:00 - 2:00 pm EST

This webinar will explore the value of developing hazard-specific plans, such as for infectious disease outbreaks, as part of an all-hazards approach to emergency preparedness. Panelists will share tips for prioritizing hazards and guidance on planning for an outbreak, including how to effectively train staff, test plans, and access helpful resources.

Part 3

Understanding & Advancing the Health Center Role in Local Emergency Response

Tuesday, March 27 from 1:00 - 2:00 pm EST

Health centers can play a crucial role in local emergency planning and response efforts. Panelists from across the country will share their experiences in building health care coalitions and other collaborative opportunities to position health centers for a greater impact in preparedness and response.
