

If you have or know someone who has colorectal cancer, you cannot miss this!

Conversations About Colorectal Cancer

Free
Community Education Program

Take control of your cancer and your life!

Finding HOPE

Healing. Options. Peer Support. Education.

in Your Community

You don't have to fight alone! This seminar will offer attendees HOPE because it provides...

- Information on treatment advances in oncology, surgery, and interventional radiology
- Opportunities to exchange information and share their experiences with other survivors and caregivers
- A chance to build a community of support

This FREE seminar is presented by the leading voices in the fight against colorectal cancer:

The Colon Cancer Alliance is the nation's largest and oldest national nonprofit providing support and education for people affected by colorectal cancer.

The Jay Monahan Center for Gastrointestinal Health at NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital/Weill Cornell Medical Center serves as a unique model of multidisciplinary integrated care, dedicated to the prevention, diagnosis, treatment, and research of gastrointestinal cancers, including cancers of the colon and rectum.

WHEN:

Saturday, September 6, 2008
9:00 A.M. - 1:30 P.M.

WHERE:

Weill Cornell Medical College (Uris Auditorium)
1300 York Avenue (at 69th Street)
New York, New York 10021

For more information or to register: 1-877-422-2030 or www.ccalliance.org

The educational workshop series is funded by an unrestricted educational grant from Amgen.